The proposed project

Project title
Youth Green Enterprise and Community Resilience Initiative

Implementation period
Proposed 6–12 month pilot, with final schedule agreed after eligibility, baseline and permissions are confirmed.

Location
South Africa; select one ASCO-served community after confirming need, municipal permission and Absa's preferred territory (suggested initial focus: Gauteng, subject to validation).

Target beneficiaries
Proposed: unemployed or underemployed young people, including young women, from an underserved South African community, plus local schools/community organisations and micro-entrepreneurs who benefit from environmental and financial-literacy activities.

Proposed outputs and targets

The following are proposed planning targets, not completed results. Final targets should be agreed with the company after baseline assessment, budget confirmation and any required stakeholder permissions.

- Proposed: engage 100 young people in a structured programme combining employability, entrepreneurship, financial literacy and climate/environmental stewardship.
- Proposed: support at least 20 youth-led green or community-benefit micro-project concepts through mentoring and basic enterprise planning.
- Proposed: deliver 4 community workshops on financial literacy, employability, entrepreneurship and climate/community resilience.
- Proposed: implement 2 practical environmental actions (for example, waste reduction, greening or water-saving) with baseline and endline participation/impact records.
- Proposed: publish a close-out report covering attendance, demographic reach, activities, outputs, lessons, expenditure and evidence, subject to Absa's reporting requirements.

Expected outcomes

- Improved community participation and practical public-benefit action in the selected location.
- Improved access to relevant learning, environmental, inclusion, humanitarian or youth-development support, depending on the project design.
- Documented implementation evidence, beneficiary participation and lessons for continuation or scale-up.
- Clear accountability through expenditure records, activity updates, monitoring information and a close-out report.

Why this matters

The proposed intervention responds to a community-development need through the sequence community need → practical intervention → measurable result. The final baseline will verify the specific need, beneficiary profile, site conditions, permissions and appropriate indicators before implementation.

ASCO will avoid overstating the problem or claiming results in advance. Where waste, participation, learning, environmental condition, referrals or other outputs are measurable, ASCO will use simple evidence tools such as attendance registers, baseline/endline checks, activity logs, photographs with consent, beneficiary feedback and expenditure records.

> Evidence discipline: All numbers in this proposal are either company-reported context from official sources or clearly labelled ASCO planning targets. No completed result, partnership or funding commitment is claimed.

Why Absa Group Limited?

ASCO's proposed South African community-development work could cautiously align with Absa's stated youth employability, entrepreneurship, financial-inclusion, community-resilience and climate-action priorities if the project is framed with measurable outcomes, a credible delivery plan and a clear environmental/social-impact component. A youth-led community resilience and green-skills programme would be thematically relevant, but this is an alignment assessment only and does not imply Absa support, a partnership or eligibility approval.

Verified company context

- Absa's 2024 sustainability approach is guided by financial inclusion; diversity, equity, inclusion and belonging; and climate action, underpinned by governance and corporate citizenship.
- Absa says its corporate-citizenship priority is to address socio-economic dynamics within its areas of operation and generate sustainable impact.
- In 2024, Absa reported more than R319 million invested in community development, R142 million-plus in entrepreneurship education and youth employability benefiting 33,983 individuals, and 23,437 young people reached through ReadyToWork across its Africa operations.
- Absa's 2024 summary says its social investments reached approximately 5,400 youth, supported 4,672 entrepreneurs including SMEs and smallholder farmers, and included a focus on digital, green and informal economies.
- The 2024 Integrated Report says Absa operates in 12 markets and describes societal interventions including preparing young people for entrepreneurship and the future of work, advancing financial literacy and inclusion, and minimising its business carbon footprint.
- Absa's sponsorship page requests applicant details, a sponsorship description, fee inclusive of taxes, term, territory, objectives, expected benefits, measurement approach and supporting information; it directs submissions to sponsorships@absa.co.za.

Initial contact route

ASCO is approved to issue Section 18A receipts effective 9 October 2026. Receipts may be issued only for qualifying donations used solely for the approved Section 18A activities: human rights and democracy, and family stability.

ASCO welcomes an initial discussion to confirm whether the proposed project is within the company's current CSI/ESG remit, whether unsolicited proposals are accepted, what documents are required, and whether the full, partial or in-kind partnership option is most suitable.

Important conditions and open questions

- Absa's public sponsorship page does not establish that every CSI or sponsorship proposal is eligible, that nonprofit grants are available, or that a request of R100,000 will be considered.
- The published application route asks for sponsorship benefits and territory; ASCO should confirm whether a public-benefit grant/CSI contribution, rather than a conventional sponsorship, is accepted and what recognition or reporting is required.
- No Absa commitment, existing ASCO partnership, approval or funding decision is evidenced by the cited sources.
- ASCO is approved to issue Section 18A receipts effective 9 October 2026. Receipts may be issued only for qualifying donations used solely for the approved Section 18A activities: human rights and democracy, and family stability.
- A specific Absa geographic eligibility rule, open/close date, excluded activities list, due-diligence checklist and maximum award were not found on the cited public pages and must be confirmed directly.
- The recommended location and targets below are proposals, not verified Absa requirements or existing ASCO results.

These cautions are included to prevent overstatement. They should be resolved with the company before ASCO treats the proposal as eligible or finalises a submission budget.

Closing

ASCO believes meaningful social and environmental progress is achieved through collaboration between communities, civil society and responsible corporate partners. We invite Absa Group Limited to join us in delivering measurable public-benefit impact through a carefully scoped and accountable partnership.
